David joined BC PSLS in October 2014 as Business Development & Information Systems Analyst and was appointed Senior Developer/Architect in June 2015. His areas of technical expertise are varied and diverse and focus primarily on projects that will improve the day-to-day workflow of BC PSLS users across the province and our Central Office team. David is responsible for providing technical guidance and formulating best practices by keeping abreast of modern software development practices.

David earned a B.Sc. in Astronomy from the University of British Columbia at the dawn of the 21st century. He began his career at the National Optical Astronomy Observatory in Tucson, Arizona as a software developer, and has since worked in mobile web development and marketing in the Vancouver area.

"I have just three things to teach: simplicity, patience, compassion. These three are your greatest treasures."
