Kim joined BCPSLS in July 2017 as Communications Specialist. She is responsible for ensuring timely, appropriate, and authentic communication with BCPSLS's valued partners and stakeholders. Kim has worked in quality and safety since 2003; her previous role helped earn her team a 2017 PHSA+ Award for demonstrating excellence and advancing the organization's values. Kim also volunteers as a role model for environmental sustainability with the Green+Leader program and received the PHSA Green Commuter of the Year Award in 2014.

A passionate communicator in a variety of media, Kim holds a Bachelor of Music in Voice from the University of British Columbia and a Master of Music in Musical Theatre from The Boston Conservatory. She completed a certification in Prosci Change Management as well as training in coaching, project management, lean processes, and healthcare leadership.
